

STEPS TO WRITING: SUMMARY, LETTERS, REPORT

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of the lesson, you should be able to:

- Demonstrate proficiency in summarising texts by identifying main ideas, condensing information effectively, and ensuring coherence in a written summary.
- Develop the skills needed to compose effective letters for various purposes, including identifying the appropriate format, maintaining a respectful tone, and crafting well-organised content.
- Acquire the ability to produce comprehensive reports, including defining the purpose, conducting thorough research, and presenting findings coherently with recommendations, if applicable.

SUMMARY, LETTERS, REPORT

When it comes to effective communication, think of it like navigating through different landscapes - summarising, letter writing, and report crafting. Just like a traveler needs the right tools and a map, mastering written communication involves understanding the details of each type of writing. Summarising is like distilling information into a concise map, letter writing is akin to composing a message to a friend, and report crafting is like planning a successful expedition.

SUMMARY

A summary is a condensed and concise version of a larger text or document, highlighting the main ideas, key points, and essential information. It provides a brief overview without including unnecessary details, allowing readers to grasp the core content quickly.

LETTER

A letter is a written message or communication addressed to a specific person or group. It typically follows a formal or informal format and may serve various purposes, such as conveying information, expressing thoughts or feelings, making requests, or establishing and maintaining connections. Letters can be used in personal, professional, or business contexts.

REPORT

A report is a formal document that presents detailed information, analysis, findings, and conclusions on a specific topic or issue. It often follows a structured format, including sections like introduction, methodology, findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

Reports are commonly used in academic, business, and professional settings to communicate research, investigations, or evaluations.

PARAGRAPHS

STEPS TO WRITING A SUMMARY

STEPS TO WRITING A SUMMARY

- ❑ Read the Text Carefully : Understand the main ideas and key points of the text.
- ❑ Identify the Thesis or Main Idea: Determine the primary argument or message of the text.
- ❑ Highlight Key Points: Identify the supporting details and examples that reinforce the main idea.
- ❑ Condense Information: Summarise the key points in your own words, focusing on brevity and clarity.

STEPS TO WRITING A SUMMARY

Maintain Structure: Retain the logical order of the original text while condensing it.

Eliminate Unnecessary Details: Omit minor details and examples unless they are crucial to the main idea.

Check for Coherence: Ensure that the summary flows smoothly and maintains the coherence of the original text.

Review and Revise: Edit for conciseness, accuracy, and clarity. Ensure that the summary accurately represents the original text.

STEPS TO WRITING A LETTER

STEPS TO WRITING A LETTER

Identify Purpose and Audience: Clearly understand why you are writing the letter and who the intended audience is.

Choose the Right Format: Select the appropriate letter format (formal, informal, business, etc.) based on the purpose and audience.

Begin with a Greeting: Start the letter with a proper salutation, addressing the recipient appropriately.

STEPS TO WRITING A LETTER

Introduction: Provide a brief introduction, stating the purpose or reason for writing.

Body: Develop the main content of the letter in organized paragraphs. Each paragraph should address a specific point.

Politeness and Tone: Maintain a respectful and appropriate tone throughout the letter.

Closing: Summarize the main points, express gratitude or goodwill, and conclude the letter appropriately.

Closing Salutation: End the letter with a suitable closing phrase and your signature.

Review and Edit: Check for grammatical errors, clarity, and coherence. Ensure that the letter achieves its intended purpose.

STEPS TO WRITING A REPORT

STEPS TO WRITING A REPORT

Define the Purpose: Clearly understand the purpose of the report and the information it needs to convey.

Research and Gather Information: Collect relevant data and information through research and analysis.

Outline the Structure: Create a logical and organized structure for the report, including sections such as introduction, methodology, findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

Write an Introduction: Introduce the topic, purpose, and scope of the report.

Present Methodology: Describe the methods used to gather data, ensuring transparency and reliability.

STEPS TO WRITING A REPORT

Analyse and Present Findings: Present the main findings with supporting evidence, using graphs, charts, or tables if necessary.

Draw Conclusions: Summarise the key findings and draw conclusions based on the analysis.

Make Recommendations (if applicable): Suggest actionable recommendations based on the conclusions.

Write a Summary: Provide a concise summary of the main points and outcomes.

Include References and Appendices: Cite sources used in the report and include any additional materials in appendices.

Review and Revise: Edit the report for clarity, coherence, and accuracy. Ensure that it meets the intended purpose and is well-organised.

SAMPLE WRITING

Now, let's see sample writing of a summary, a letter and a report.

SUMMARY SAMPLE

In the intricate tapestry of politics, the interplay of power, ideology, and public sentiment weaves a complex narrative. Political landscapes are shaped by the dynamic relationships between individuals, institutions, and societal forces. Elections serve as the crucible where diverse perspectives clash, giving rise to leaders who are entrusted with the responsibility of steering the ship of state. The spectrum of political ideologies, from conservatism to progressivism, adds vibrancy to the discourse, reflecting the diverse values held within a society. Legislative bodies, as the crucible of policy formulation, engage in spirited debates, negotiating the delicate balance between individual freedoms and collective responsibilities. However, the undercurrents of political maneuvering and strategic alliances often obscure the ostensibly transparent process of governance. Despite the ideals of democracy, the reality is often marked by the influence of lobbying, vested interests, and the perennial struggle for power.

SUMMARY SAMPLE

Summary:

Politics is a multifaceted realm characterized by the interplay of power dynamics, ideological clashes, and the influence of public sentiment. Elections act as pivotal moments where diverse perspectives collide, leading to the emergence of leaders entrusted with governance. The political spectrum, spanning conservatism to progressivism, enriches the discourse by representing the varied values within a society. Legislative bodies play a crucial role in shaping policies, navigating the delicate balance between individual freedoms and collective responsibilities. However, the ostensibly transparent governance process is frequently obscured by political maneuvering, strategic alliances, and the impact of lobbying and vested interests.

LETTER SAMPLE

Dear Mr Azeez,

Letter of Appreciation

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to express my gratitude for your unwavering support and collaboration in our recent project. Your dedication and hard work have truly made a significant impact, and I am sincerely thankful for your contributions.

We look forward to deploying a more robust project outcome with your key contributions in the future.

I look forward to to working with you and our sincere gratitude once again here at Hollie Holdings.

Yours sincerely,
PD, Hollie Holdings
Katie Afam

LETTER SAMPLE: KEY PARTS OF THE LETTER

Greeting: "Dear Mr Azees,"

Opening Sentence: "I hope this letter finds you well."

Purpose of the Letter: "I am writing to express my gratitude for your unwavering support and collaboration in our recent project."

Closing: Conclude the letter with a polite closing, such as "Best regards" or "Sincerely."

Signature: Sign the letter with your name.

Note: This structure covers the essential elements of a letter, incorporating a warm greeting, clearly stating the purpose, expressing appreciation, and providing a polite closing.

SAMPLE REPORT

Introduction:

Poverty is a persistent global challenge that affects millions of people. This report aims to provide a comprehensive analysis of the current state of poverty worldwide, including its causes, consequences, and potential solutions.

Present Methodology:

Data for this report was gathered through a systematic review of reputable sources, including national and international statistical agencies, research institutions, and non-governmental organizations. The methodologies employed by these organizations were critically evaluated to ensure the reliability and accuracy of the information presented.

Analyze and Present Findings:

Global poverty rates have been on a declining trend over the past decade, yet significant challenges persist. The findings indicate regional variations, with Sub-Saharan Africa and parts of Asia experiencing higher poverty rates compared to other regions. Factors such as lack of access to education, healthcare, and economic opportunities contribute significantly to the perpetuation of poverty.

PARAGRAPHS

Draw Conclusions:

Despite progress, it is evident that eradicating poverty requires multifaceted interventions addressing both immediate needs and long-term systemic issues. Access to education, healthcare, and sustainable economic opportunities emerges as critical factors in poverty alleviation.

Make Recommendations:

Based on the conclusions drawn, recommendations include increased investments in education and healthcare infrastructure, targeted economic development initiatives, and the implementation of social safety nets. Collaboration between governments, NGOs, and the private sector is essential for effective poverty reduction strategies.

Write a Summary:

In summary, this report highlights the current state of global poverty, its root causes, and potential solutions. It emphasizes the importance of a holistic approach and international cooperation in addressing this complex issue.

SUMMARY

Today's lesson was about three key types of writing..

Summarising involves distilling the main ideas of a text with brevity and clarity, ensuring coherence while eliminating unnecessary details.

Letter writing is a creative process, akin to sculpting, where words are the sculpting tools shaping intent. It involves identifying purpose and audience, selecting the right format, and employing politeness and tone.

Lastly, report crafting navigates the complex terrain of presenting detailed information, requiring a structured approach with defined sections, such as introduction, methodology, findings, and recommendations. Each form demands a unique set of skills, making them invaluable tools for effective communication in various contexts.

REFERENCE & FURTHER READING

Adedeji, E.O. (2005). Grammatical ties in English Discourse in Moji Olateju & Lekan Oyeleye (Eds) Perspectives on Language and Literature. Ile- Ife, Nigeria: Obafemi Awolowo University. pp 157-166.

Aremo, B (2001). (Ed) Advanced English Compositions. Lagos, Nigeria: Scribo Educational Books.

Aremo, B. (1995). An Introduction to English Sentences (1) Ibadan, Nigeria: Caltop Publications Nigeria Ltd
Aremo, B. (1997). An Introduction to English Sentences (2) Ibadan, Nigeria: Caltop Publications Nigeria Ltd.

THANK YOU